Center for Resolutions Program Descriptions

Mediation Services

The program gives individuals, groups, and organizations the opportunity to resolve conflict outside of the court. Our trained mediators bring people in conflict together and facilitate a constructive conversation to assist them in creating their own mutually satisfying agreement. Individuals, the court system, local police departments, and local agencies utilize and refer cases to our mediation services. Center for Resolutions utilizes over 36 volunteer mediators. We have seen a significant increase in mediation requests during the pandemic.

Peer Mediation Program

Our peer mediation program is designed for elementary and secondary schools. We train and support students to offer mediation to their peers as an option for resolving conflict. When conflict arises and students do not know how to communicate openly and honestly, the conflict tends to escalate and grow. Peer mediation programs provide youth and adults with the tools and skills to resolve conflicts nonviolently.

Benefits

- Develops problem-solving, decision-making, and leadership skills.
- Creates stronger interpersonal and inter-group relations.
- Empowers students.
- Builds conflict resolution skills through real life practice.
- Improves self-esteem.

The Center for Resolutions works with school districts to develop and implement a peer mediation program. We provide peer mediation training for students and school staff, consulting to develop and implement a successful peer mediation program and follow up services.

Supervised Visitation-Reunification Program

Center for Resolutions provides non-custodial parents and their children a safe and secure space to preserve the parent/child bond and promote stronger family connection. Visits are completely confidential and facilitated by trained and impartial supervisors. Furthermore, focus is placed on the importance of the family relationship and parent engagement. The visitation center provides access to families in need in a safe and respectful environment. Documentation is provided to courts that may support the reunification plan outlined by the judge.

Youth Aid Panel

Youth Aid Panel (YAP) is a diversionary program for Delaware County juveniles that have committed a first-time summary level offense (i.e. underage drinking, small amount of marijuana, disorderly conduct, retail theft, etc.). We partner with police departments that refer the cases to a panel of volunteers that represent the community they are serving. Currently, there are 225 panelists representing 35 police departments in 41 municipalities across the county. Our trained panels are poised to intervene in the lives of these young people at the first moment they begin to make poor decisions. After an extensive interview with the youth and parents or guardian, a panel mentor is assigned to help them through the process which typically takes between 2 and 3 months to complete. The panel creates resolutions, or assignments pertinent to the offense committed and the individual youth's needs, interests, or goals. These resolutions are creative and allow the youth to learn from their mistakes through a restorative justice model, as opposed to punitive measurements from the juvenile justice system.

If the youth successfully completes the program, they do not receive a juvenile record, allowing the youth a fair opportunity at success such as applying to colleges, jobs, and the army. Our goal is to assist youth and families most in need by bringing conflict resolution skills and resources to Delaware County.

The Center for Resolutions has several programs that are specifically designed to the needs of the individual youth. "Teen Intervene" in collaboration with Child and Family Focus is a program that deals with drug and alcohol use and consists of two sessions. Both sessions must be attended by the youth, with the parent/guardian attending for a portion of the second session. The "My Path Ahead" class is geared to youth who generally lack direction regarding their future and provide them with specific strategies to help them develop a plan for their future success. The "Problem Solving and Decision Making" class concentrates on 5 areas, identifying problems, creating alternatives, evaluating these alternatives, deciding the best course of action, and measuring results. The "History in my Backyard" class is for youth to learn from Veterans and their experiences. Youth also help beautify the memorial site for completion of resolution. Classes are held at the Delaware County Veterans Memorial in Newtown Square.

In addition, the Center for Resolutions offers several community service projects as resolutions.

The feedback from the teens who attend classes has been extremely positive and we believe it will help them to make better decisions when questionable situations arise in their future. The Youth Aid Panel Program has the youth and community working collaboratively to shift the youth from the label of "criminal" to feeling empowered, educated, and connected to their community.

Dear Superintendent Flanagan,

I wanted to thank the Radnor police for a very quick response to my 911 call. My wife and I have been residents of Radnor for over 51 years. Over the years we have gotten to know many of the officers. They have always been just great.

We're up in years now, I'm 88 and my wife is 80. I had a stroke 9 years ago, which limits me to a degree. Last night, the 13th, I fell. My legs were basically "shot" from fitness videos which we do, since our gym closed. I just couldn't get up. My wife called 911 and in no time Officers Josh McCann and Nick Rentof were at the front door. While my wife was opening the door, I was able to get myself up, to my wife's amazement.

Thanks very much.

Nathan Elitzky

You might think it was nothing but it definitely wasn't.

Thank you. For everything.

I seriously will never forget you and our ~~encounter~~ car encounter !!
You Rock -

Fondly -
Stacy Clark

Dear officer Cocco -

I will never ever forget your kindness
when I was just told
I had thyroid nodules.
That was such grace
and kindness you showed me.
Telling me about your mom's experience was so helpful.
I look forward to thanking you in person and hearing
more about your family and work.
This is a small token of my thanks.

Hi Brady,

The students are still buzzing about the meeting Tuesday. Several have told me how much they enjoyed the presentation and dialogue!

Thank you so much for continuing this annual meeting. I know I love listening to the three of you as much as the kids do.

They deeply appreciated the pizza (as did my junior students who gobbled up the leftovers!); having a lunch meeting gave all of us a much-needed feeling of normal.

I know I speak on behalf of all of the students and administration when I tell you how grateful we are for what you do for our community and for carving out time each year to develop this rapport with our kids.

Please pass this email to Chief Flanagan and Lieutenant Pinto. We love having them visit as well. I'm already looking forward to next year.

Sincerely,

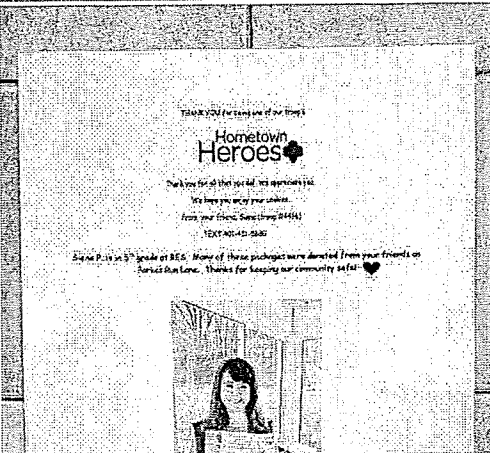

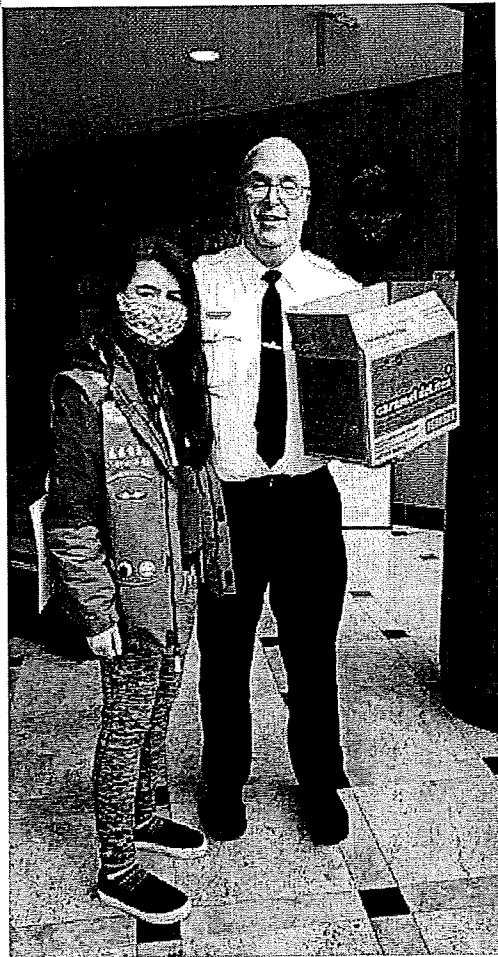

Kathy Pearsall

The kids were off from school today so Siena wanted to deliver some donated packages of Girl Scout cookies to the hard working employees at our township police department. Siena presented the cookies to Lt. Joe Pinto who was very appreciative of her donation.

Siena had already donated to the teachers and staff at Radnor Elementary and she has another donation planned for Radnor Fire Department. She'd also like to be able to donate some packages to staff at one of the local hospitals.

There's still time to order and/or donate to #HometownHeroes. Cookie sale ends Sunday March 13th. Anyone in the U.S. can buy (or donate) cookies from Siena. Easiest way to order is to follow the link below and either select SHIPPED or GIRL-DELIVERY (if you live within 15 min of Wayne, PA). If you'd like to pay by cash, check, Venmo, or PayPal, send me a private message and I can send you her Google Order form. ♥

March 2022

Dear Midland Avenue and SKS families;

St.Katharine's School is an integral part of our Midland Avenue/South Wayne community and family. It's probably safe to say that there isn't a community or family, in existence, that is perfect. We can all relate to having to tap into grace, patience, and mindfulness to tolerate the seemingly intolerable; the less than desirable parts of people and situations within our families and communities.

We acknowledge that the SKS carline, a permanent necessity, is a tangible example of a sometimes less than desirable situation within our community. After several meetings and discussions, we've collectively decided it is of the utmost importance to communicate our sincerest gratitude to everyone involved in or affected by the SKS carline. We also acknowledge that it's sometimes frustrating to have a carline in front of your home, or, if you're in the carline, to be asked to move your car if you are unaware that you're obstructing someone's driveway. We sincerely thank you and encourage you to keep practicing patience and mindfulness in these instances.

Together, we've examined every possibility of carline formation and have come to the conclusion that the carline needs to remain where it is. Radnor PD and SKS have worked together to double up the carline once it gets to the SKS gates to have cars move quicker off of the 300 and 400 Midland blocks. Since then, the carline flow has been clocked by Radnor PD from start to finish between 9-13 minutes. For those who are SKS drivers, realizing that not everyone lives in close proximity to SKS, we ask that you wait in a public parking lot nearby if you need to get closer to school and then get in line no earlier than 2:40. Citations will be issued for blocking and turning around in driveways.

With the conscientiousness of a community and family that cares for one another, we can turn a less than desirable circumstance into a tolerable one by adhering to the carline rules, being mindful of residents, and practicing patience. If anything comes up and you need assistance, please don't hesitate to reach out to any of us.

Much Gratitude,

AnnaMarie Jones; Radnor Twp. 3rd Ward Commissioner

Bud Tosti; St. Katharine of Siena School Principal
